WRECK OF ILL- FATED TITANTIC

MEAGER DETAILS OF COLLISION AND SINKING OF OCEAN LINER.

St. Johns, N. F., April 16.—From the steamship Bruce, bound for Sydney, comes the first detailed reports tonight of the sinking of the Titanic and the appalling scenes attending her end. The Bruce obtained her story of the disaster from wireless messages picked up from several of the ships which had been in closer touch with the last hours of the mammoth White Star steamship and which were afterward in the zone of communication with the Bruce's apparatus.

When the Titanic struck the mountain of ice that sent her to the bottom within four hours after the impact she was steaming at the rate of eighteen knots an hour. The shock almost demolished the proud vessel, which her builders and her captain had believed nothing could master.

Hitting the impenetrable ice mass fairly with her towering bows, the ship was almost rent asunder at the first blow. Her decks were ripped and torn, her sides and bulkheads were split and shattered as with the hammer of some titan, from the bow to a point almost amidships. Her upper works and some of her boats were splintered, while a shower of debris from her spars fell upon the decks like giant hail.

Though the ship had struck the monster obstruction head on, as her bow rose clear of the water smashed to an unrecognizable mass of bent and shivered steel, the vessel listed heavily to port and threatened to turn turtle before the recoil slide of what was left of her proud form, back to an even keel.

The work was progressing in a way the women and children being given the preference in the life boats. At first the evidences of panic were well suppressed, though there was many a painful scene as wives and sisters, sweethearts and mothers parted from their dear ones, whom they were leaving to an unknown fate as they took their allotted places in the boats. Several times as the compartments rapidly filled, the vessel lurched heavily. Then the cry went up that the ship was sinking and there was a rush for the small boats that for the first time threatened to transform a brave and orderly scene into one of frenzied panic.

As the Titanic settled lower under the weight of the rapidly gaining water in her hold it was said that some of her boats were stove in before they could be freed from the davits and that a few were swamped in the effort to launch them.

Within less than an hour after the doomed queen of the ocean fleets had struck she had settled so fast that the water had flooded her engine rooms and then her wireless apparatus went out of commission. At the same time the falling of her dynamos extinguished her electric lighting system and the mammoth craft was plunged into Stygian darkness, except for such feeble gleams as were afforded by the use of torches and lanterns.

These served only to emphasize the horror of the midnight darkness, made more weird by the reflections and shadows cast by the towering masses of the arctic pinnacles surrounding the stricken ship.

In the darkness the work of launching the remaining boats was made more difficult, but the Bruce reports that all the boats or nearly all, had cleared the wreck before the Titanic took her final plunges into the obscure depths of a grave two miles deep.

sive leader of an organization that is appealing to the country to aid in preserving the beautiful and picturesque Tallulah Falls from the hands of a company which will appropriate the fall for power purposes, leaving only a rocky gorge to mark the spot which has delighted Americans for centuries. The band of commercialism knows no sentiment. It ruthlessly blights anything whose destruction promises to yield a dollar, the vandals that sacked Rome were not more deaf to appeals to spare the city its beautiful monuments than a modern company of the kind that now seeks to destroy the most beautiful spot in the Southland. There are some things that should be sacred from the desecrating hand of commercialism, but in the name of progress many things are sacrificed.

RATLIFF ON HIS EAR.

The News is in receipt of a communication from Alderman Ratliff of the Second Ward in which that gentleman expresses his displeasure with the humorous petition to the council from a citizen of Second ward, appearing in the News of the day before. It occurs to the editor that Mr. Ratliff is inclined to be a trifle hasty, for although we do not know just who wrote said article, we can see no reflection on Mr. Ratliff. The editor happens to be a resident of 9th street and has been trying for a year to have a little work done, but under the present system of aldermanic government, has never been able to get action anywhere along the line. We thought possibly the publication of this article would perhaps emphasize the demand for some relief. The writer has paid street tax in Ada for five years, but has never been able to get five cents worth of direct benefit from it. In reference to the article, it should be stated that the reporter took the liberty to publish it without hunting up the author and asking his permission.

DON'T DELAY

Some Ada People Have Learned That Neglect Is Dangerous.

The slightest symptom of kidney trouble is far too serious to be overlooked. It's the small, neglected troubles that lead to serious kidney ailments. That pain in the "small" of your back; that urinary irregularity; those headaches and dizzy spells; that weak, weary, worn-out feeling may be nature's warning of dropsy, or fatal Bright's diseases. Why risk your life by neglecting these symptoms? Reach the cause of the trouble while there is yet time—begin treating your kidneys at once with a tried and proven kidney remedy. No need to experiment—Doan's Kidney Pills have been curing kidney trouble for over 75 years. Doan's Kidney Pills are used and recommended throughout the civilized world. Endorsed at home. Read Ada testimony.

Mrs. W. C. Cantrew, Stockton avenue and Seventh street, Ada, Okla., says: "When I suffered from backache and my kidneys were disordered I was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills, and did so. They restored my kidneys to a normal condition and removed the pains. I am pleased to recommend this remedy to any one who feels in need of it."

WHY not give your lad the same training?

"When I was a growing lad, and came upon many words in my reading that I did not understand, my mother, instead of giving me the definition when I applied to her, uniformly sent me to the dictionary to learn it, and in this way I gradually learned many things besides the meaning of the individual word in question—among other things, how to use a dictionary, and the great pleasure and advantage there might be in the use of the dictionary. Afterwards, when I went to the village school, my chief diversion, after lessons were learned and before they were recited, was in turning over the pages of the 'Unabridged' of those days. Now the modern Unabridged—the NEW INTERNATIONAL—gives me my knowledge extends, it is at present the best of the one-volume dictionaries, and quite sufficient for all ordinary uses. Even those who possess the splendid dictionaries in several volumes will yet find it a great convenience to have this, which is so compact, so full, and so trustworthy as to leave, in most cases, little to be desired."—Albert S. Cook, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of the English Language and Literature, Yale Univ., April 28, 1911.

GUTHRIE WILL MAKE ONE MORE FIGHT

Location of Oklahoma's Capital Again to Come to Vote at Polls—Guthrie Files Initiative Petition.

Guthrie, Ok., April 17.—Attorney John Devereux threw Guthrie's hat in the ring today when he filed with Attorney General West an initiative petition to locate the capitol and seat of government of Oklahoma at the City of Guthrie. In making this move, Devereux acted for the Guthrie Chamber of Commerce, and the action is based principally on the recent opinion, given by Attorney General West to Governor Lee Cruce that the state is not obligated to regard as binding the agreements, made in 1910 with Oklahoma City, relative to locating the capitol and erecting the capitol buildings there.

The Attorney General held further that because of the failure of the citizens of Oklahoma City to make good on their agreement relative to locating the capitol there, that there is nothing to authorize Governor Cruce to make a binding contract for the erection of the buildings. The slate thus being wiped clean, the citizens of Guthrie through the Chamber of Commerce decided to act, and filing the petition with Attorney General West today is the first step.

The question, to be submitted by Guthrie at the polls, is very brief and simple:

"Shall the following proposed amendment to the Constitution be adopted:

"(Title)—An act amending Article 21 of the constitution of the State of Oklahoma by adding to said article a section numbered 2 locating the capitol and seat of government of said state.

"Be it enacted by the people of the State of Oklahoma:

Sec. 2. The Capitol and seat of government of the State of Oklahoma is hereby located at the City of Guthrie, in said State."

At Regular November Election
The initiative petition, filed today with Attorney General West preparatory to filing it with Secretary of State Ben Harrison contemplates a vote on the amendment at the regular election in November so as to make no additional expense to the people of the state.

In case the vote is favorable to Guthrie, the $150,000 courthouse and the $150,000 convention hall here are to be turned over to the state, rent free, until such time as permanent state buildings are erected. Donated permanently to the state will be the big convention hall and campus, the original capitol site here designated by the federal government in 1889, when Oklahoma was opened to settlement, and located in the heart of the city.

Both the convention hall and the county courthouse were used and found adequate by the state departments, prior to the removal of the capitol to Oklahoma City nearly two years ago.

The Perpetual Change.
The things of the world are ever rising and falling, and in perpetual change; and this change must be according to the will of God, as he has bestowed upon man neither the wisdom nor the power to enable him to check it. The great lesson in these things is that man must strengthen himself doubly at such times to fulfill his duty, and to do what is right, and must seek his happiness and inward peace from objects which cannot be taken away from him—Willhelm von Humboldt.

"For the Cause of the South"

It brings home to the spectator the horrors, the patriotism and the devotion which abound in that lost cause, and it shows the love of a woman and her devotion and sacrifice to the Southland. The Blue and the Gray are blended closely together, and the human heart is touched to the depth at the close of the picture. The drama is wonderfully well staged and acted and it shows a thrilling battle scene.

THERE IS BUT ONE ANSWER!

Women Want Good Roads.

Women's clubs in the rural districts and smaller towns are getting deeply interested in the good roads question. This interest may be following the trail blazed by the club movement to reach the farmer's wife down in the valleys, up on the hills and out on the prairies, for the benefits to be had on both sides from an exchange of views and experiences between city women on the one side and country women on the other, but whatever blazed the trail the interest seems to be increasing in evidence.

Work of this kind has heretofore been left to the "men folks" in good part, but there are not many things of communal import that can't be better done by both "women folks" and men folks according to the awakened woman's point of view. It is reported that in a few states women are on good roads commissions, but even where they are not they are agitating for good roads, creating a public demand for them, and pointing out how school, home and business can all be bettered when the road to each is a road that can be used in all kinds of weather. One woman, in particular, in a western county, made such an outcry.—Dallas News.

According to a report circulated around the court house Rit Erwin, the popular county treasurer and only bachelor county officer, had a narrow escape from a leap year proposal one day recently, but interpreting leap year to mean skidoo, he leaped out of the window and escaped capture. He said he is too young to marry just yet.

The Majestic has an unusually fine picture program this evening, it being Edison's great masterpiece: "For the Cause of the South." It not only shows in a strong light the true nobility of Southern character of that trying period, but also a splendid battle scene. This picture will appeal to all Southerners who love the cause for which their fathers fought.

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardui.

Meetez, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well."

One day, I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women. A few doses of Cardui at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness. It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy. Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it. It may be just the medicine you need.

N. B.—Write to Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special "Cardui" and 64-page book, "Home Treatment of Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

LITTLE NEWS OF TITANIC SURVIVORS

New York, April 17.—All day yesterday fearful and anxious throngs swarmed the offices of the White Star Line and overflowed into Broadway, stopping traffic at times and keeping police reserves busy maintaining order.

Col. John J. Astor is believed among those drowned. His wife and maid are safe on the Carpathia. Isador Strus, the millionaire merchant; Benjamin Guggenheim, the copper magnate, and Edgar J. Meyer, vice president of the Braden Copper Company, still are unaccounted for.

Whether Charles M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Railroad, was saved was not known tonight. His name was not among those reported rescued by the Carpathia. A wireless early in the day stated that Hays was saved. His wife and daughter were rescued.

JOHN PAUL JONES STATUE UNVEILED

Washington, D. C., April 17.—With impressive military and civic exercises the magnificent memorial to John Paul Jones, the naval hero of the American Revolution, was dedicated in this city today. Congress appropriated $50,000 for the memorial, which occupies a conspicuous site at the main entrance to Potomac Park.

The president of the United States and members of the Cabinet, the diplomatic corps, justices of the supreme court of the United States, distinguished officers of the navy and the army, senators, representatives in congress and many others prominent in official life, as well as a large concourse of citizens, were present. Thousands of bluejackets of the navy, United States marines, soldiers of the regular army and of the National Guard and delegations representing patriotic and other civic organizations were assembled in parade as a tribute to the famous naval hero.

The memorial, the work of Paul H. Niehaus, the New York sculptor, was admired by everyone who saw it. It many respects it differs from other similar memorials erected in the national capital. It consists of a marble pylon of classic design as the background for a colossal bronze figure of the intrepid naval commander of the early days of the republic. The pylon is a massive rectangular tower about fifteen feet in height. It occupies the center of an ornamental fountain, the water for which will come from the bronze heads of dolphins at each end of the pylon. On the back of the shaft is a large panel containing a bas relief representation of Commodore Jones raising the American flag on the historic ship Bonhomme Richard.

The Jones statue stands at the base of the monument in front of the pedestal. It is of heroic proportions, being about ten feet high. The great naval commander is shown in full uniform, with an expression and pose suggestive of his indomitable will and unconquerable spirit. Apparently he is watching a naval engagement. His right hand is clenched and his left hand clutches his sword.

In the die under the statue is inscribed: "1747—First to compel foreign men of war to strike colors to the Stars and Stripes—1792."

There are two inscriptions on the rear of the pylon. The first of these is on the stone forming the cap of the shaft. It embodies the language popularly attributed to Commodore Jones when called upon by the commander of the British frigate Serapis to surrender the battered American ship Bonhomme Richard. The inscription is as follows: "Surrender—I have not yet begun to fight."

The second inscription is just below the bas relief representing Commodore Jones raising the United States flag for the first time on an American warship. It reads: "In Life he honored the Flag. In death the Flag shall honor him."

Secretary of the Navy Meyer presided at the dedication exercises and the memorial was unveiled by Admiral Dewey. President Taft addressed the assemblage and pronounced a splendid tribute to the valor and genius of the sailor and patriot and told of his daring deeds on the high seas. The exercises concluded with the oration of the day delivered by General Horace Porter of New York, who while United States ambassador to France found the remains of Commodore Jones in an abandoned cemetery in Paris and had them brought to their present resting place in a vault of the chapel at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

The United States Marine Band furnished the musical features of the dedication program. At the conclusion of the exercises a vessel of the navy stationed in the Potomac opposite the statue fired a regulation salute.

Another packed house greeted the Anker sisters at the Empress last evening. This evening they will give their last performance and their program will be entirely changed from that of the past evenings. A splendid picture program is also booked for this evening.

NORMAL ITEMS

Pres. Briles is in Oklahoma City attending a meeting of the state board of education. He will return tonight.

Prof. J. Frank Lilly will go to Shawnee Friday night to act as a judge in a debate between Shawnee and Ardmore high schools. He will also go to Madill Saturday to address the teachers of Marshall county.

Four tennis courts are being built and will be ready for use in a short time.

New students are enrolling almost every day.

Tomorrow (Thursday) and Friday the Baptist university of Shawnee will be here for two games of baseball. The normal boys won two games against the university last week, but the university was crippled on account of one or two of their players being hurt. They expect to be in good trim tomorrow and put one over our boys. The normal boys are starting out for a clean record from now on.

There is no reason why they cannot win every game. The game they played with Sacred Heart Saturday was of the kind that wins at all times. They are getting the reputation of being the best base winners in this part of the state. Everybody who likes good fast base ball should see them play.

The games will be called at 4 o'clock. Come out, we need your help and encouragement.

The grand stand will be rebuilt today and will be ready for use for tomorrow's game. Come out. You can get a seat.
